we designed and implemented the Erasmus program as follows:

- Presentation of the structure of each partner
- Theoretical issues about therapeutic riding (background-history of hippotherapy, the difference between hippotherapy and therapeutic riding, the group of therapists and horse riding in the treatment, indications and contraindications and benefits of this therapeutic approach)
- theoretical issues related to the spectrum of autism and the benefits of treatment Riding for these people

- the importance of the horse's attention and its role in therapeutic riding, horse riding (combination of theory, video streaming and internship indoors in KETHIS)
- presentation and use of materials used in therapeutic riding and practice
- monitoring therapeutic riding sessions in KETHIS
- presentation of the protocol of the therapeutic riding sessions, which will be followed by all partners, discussion on the research design, for example which is the experimental group, the control group, age of the participants, protocol therapy sessions, therapists who will participate, evaluation tool, Vineland Adaptive Behavior Scales. What statistical experimental data analysis methods we use, what "Threats" we are facing, how strong our survey will be
- discussion, review of curriculum and planning of the next educational meeting

Outputs

- Good practice guide
- Frame work
- Application called “Horsy”
- Video tape
